PREACHER ACQUITTED.

Charges of a Scandalous Nature Had Been Made.

Accusation That He Had Two Living Wives Falls to the Ground.

A church trial of more than usual interest took place at Sulphur Springs last Friday and Saturday, resulting in the vindication of a man who has been the victim of scandalous country gossip.

Rev. J. H. Savage had been sent to the Sulphur Springs circuit by the Methodist conference. He was a preacher of some ability and had no pretence with the sins common within the bounds of his charge. In response to his plain preaching the enmity of a portion of the community was aroused, and some time ago scandalous talk regarding him was heard, first in whispers and then more loudly. Finally it reached the ears of the authorities of the church, and an investigation was decided upon.

The trial was held last Friday, and Rev. J. T. Rushing, the presiding elder, presided at the trial. The only charge that the assailants of the minister could be induced to bring up for hearing, was that he was the husband of two living wives.

The charge was investigated and the most that could be made of them was that they were hearsay, based on irresponsible gossip, and Rev. Savage was acquitted and the accusers put to shame.

Tax Case Dismissed.

Quite a little interest was manifested in the actions of Hattie Gilstrap and sixteen others against Sheriff Cal P. Keown, each seeking to recover the sum of $2.00, collected by the Sheriff as the cost of advertising land for taxes.

Judge Miller declined to sit in the tax cases and therefore the bar elected Hon. C. M. Crowe special judge. The Gilstrap case was made a test case, and its trial occupied half of last week. At its conclusion the court dismissed the case and gave Sheriff Keown judgment for his cost.

Hon. C. M. Crowe was a member of the Legislature in 1902 which passed the advertising act, and said in his opinion that it was meant to protect the county, the State and the sheriff, and to compel the payment of taxes by those owing them. The plaintiff was represented by G. B. Likens, while H. P. Taylor and Heavrin & Woodward appeared for Sheriff Keown.

FOND EMBRACE

By Husband May Cost His Wife Her Life.

Corset Stay Broken and Pierced Young Woman's Side--- Blood Poisoning Set In.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 27.—The affection of Earl E. Cornwell for his wife may result in her death, for Saturday evening he hugged her so tightly that a rusty stay in her corset broke and one point of it was forced into the flesh. The injury, apparently was but slight, though painful and but little attention was paid to it at first. Two days later the wound became swollen and inflammation set in. A physician was called and heroic treatment begun at once, but the doctor says that he hopes to be able to avert it. The pretty young wife has a strong constitution and has always been very healthy.

Cornwell is very much alarmed over his wife's condition as well as embarrassed over the cause leading to it. He refuses to say anything concerning the accident.

According to the young man's mother who was a witness to the catastrophe, her son and his wife were driven out of the house by the excessive heat and were in the front yard.

He grasped her in a fond embrace. Not wishing to be hugged in so public a place the wife struggled to free herself. There was a cracking sound and Mrs. Cornwell put her arms to her side with a little scream of pain. A corset stay had been broken by the bear-like embrace of the ardent young husband and the wife injured.

In telling of the accident Cornwell's mother said: "Earl is a little bit too affectionate, but he cannot be blamed. I guess, for he thinks the world and all of his wife."

"Yes," was the reply of a neighbor. "I believe that is true, for he is always hugging her every time I see them together."

Frank Pardon Says it is the Finest Specimen in Owensboro.

Mr. Frank Pardon, the jeweler, is the owner of the finest pearl in Owensboro, says the Owensboro Messenger. He has had it but a few hours but he is very proud of it. It is round and smooth and brilliant and weighs eleven grains. It was bought of a son of Esquire William Goodwine on Tuesday. Just what he paid for it could not be learned but the youth who found it went home rejoicing and Mr. Pardon is rejoicing still. He expects to rejoice still more when he shall have sold it for its real value. Mr. Pardon says the pearl is a very rare and fine one and that he saw a necklace once containing ninety such which sold for $80,000. It was found in Panther creek while the youth was in bathing. He found one once before but it was not so fine as this. Mr. Pardon declared last night that he would not take $250 for the pearl. He will send it to the dealers in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia and get their price upon it.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Reviewed by one Who Left the Party When Free
Silver Took It.

Heralded as the Enemy of Trusts
Yet it Was Dominated by Trust Magnates.

What clear, useful lesson do the proceedings of the recent national Democratic convention teach?

As a circus it was a success. Ring-master David Bennett Hill, of New York; Trick Horse, Alton Brooks Parker, of the same State; Performing Monkeys, John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, who tried to imitate Elihu Root as temporary chairman; and Champ Clark, who essayed the role of mimicking Uncle Joe Cannon as permanent presiding officer; Trust Busters, James M. Guffey, Standard Oil magnate from Pennsylvania; and August Belmont, of New York, recently chairman of the executive committee of the L. & N. Railroad Company, who together with David B. Hill secured the nomination of Alton Brooks Parker as their representative in the race for the Presidency, and gave the party as its nominee for the Vice Presidency Henry G. Davis, president of two railroad companies, president of a big national bank, and a leader of the coal trust.

The real sincerity of the platform is indicated by the fact that William Jennings Bryan and David Bennett Hill agreed in favor of its adoption. Oil and water, it is said, will not mix. When I was a country boy there was in every back yard a structure into which the wood ashes were poured, and from which came a liquid known as lye. This would bring oil and water together and produce soft soap. Champ Clark, in his opening address as permanent chairman, quoted the declaration of the psalmist. "In my haste I said all men are liars." David Bennett Hill exemplified how well this applied in his case, when in the committee room he assured Mr. Bryan that he did not know how Judge Parker stood on the financial question. Mr. Littleton, who was selected to present Parker's name to the convention, got into the same class by proclaiming that his candidate would accept the platform as made for him by the party, and thus secured the support of the friends of free silver, who, by striking out the action of the sub-committee in thanking Almighty God for the abundance of gold, had left the utterances of the Kansas City platform still in force as the attitude of the party on what was really the paramount question at St. Louis. The convention was so unruly that the chairman said "the rabble and the mob had controlled it from the beginning." He could not make himself heard without the use of a megaphone.

It was so indecent that obscenity and the vilest epithets were screamed from one of the halls to the other, in spite of the presence of at least 2,500 ladies, and no one tried to suppress it.

Mr. Bryan denounced the delegation from Illinois as "no better than train robbers." One of the prominent figures of the convention was Gov. Vardaman, of Mississippi, who secured his high place by opposing the education of the negroes, although he believes in training his horse or his dog. What was to me the most characteristic performance of the convention was the selection by the leaders of pitchfork Tillman, from South Carolina, to act as its mouthpiece in explaining its position with reference to the Parker telegram. He is the chief of the Saloon Trust in his State, and if he ever had a thought or impulse that was not sectional and narrow, it has failed to come under my observation. John Sharp Williams, temporary chairman of the convention, and leader of the Democrats in the House of Representatives at Washington, who was first to discuss the Parker telegram, said:

"My friends, we purposely made the platform silent on the question of the monetary standard. We made it silent because we all agreed that it was not an issue in this convention." Judge Parker thought it was an issue, and said that if he did not break the silence of the convention his nomination would be a Dead Sea apple to him. Senator Tillman contradicted Mr. Williams in his statement that all agreed the monetary issue was not an issue in this campaign, because he says he was one of those who wrestled over this question in the Committee on Resolutions, and knows "with how much of travail and how much of anger it was there discussed."

Mr. Bryan said that the committee was in session the last time sixteen hours, engaged in discussing the financial features, and added:

"When the platform was reported from the sub-committee it contained the gold standard plank, of which you know. It was discussed in committee. It was stated by members that it would be unfortunate to insert the plank, and finally, by a vote of 35 to 15, it was decided to exclude it."

Mr. Tillman, whose purpose was to bulldoze the convention into submission to Judge Parker's pronouncement, said that there were in the committee "pronounced views antagonistic on the financial question which had to be reconciled." He added that when he read Judge Parker's telegram he took it that "an indignity was being put upon us, that some one was attempting to trifle with us, and I swore by the Almighty God that I, for one, would not endure it."

He said that after considering the matter, he had concluded that Judge Parker "under the stress of clamor about him and in the New York newspapers and by telegrams, had felt he ought to declare his views, but that this did not change the platform," as was done four years before when Mr. Bryan announced in advance he would not accept the Kansas City nomination unless there came with it a new and distinct declaration in favor of free silver.

Judge Parker thought the monetary standard would be an issue, or else he would not have flaunted his views with reference to it in the face of the convention. He knew that after he had been nominated he could do this with impunity, because to have taken him off the ticket would have turned the factions loose and brought on hopeless war and dissension. The committee on resolutions believed it to be an issue, because they struggled with it two or three days and nights in red hot mood, and finally, by a vote of 35 to 15, decided that the free silver standard, which had been floating over the party for eight years, should not be taken down.

And yet John Sharp Williams, in trying to grease Judge Parker's telegram so that it could be swallowed by the delegates, said the monetary standard is not a probable issue in this campaign, and the convention, accepting this as the easiest way out of trouble and to vindicate old David as quoted by Champ Clark, wired to its nominee that the platform is silent on this subject, "because it is not regarded by us a possible issue in this campaign." Tillman, in closing his address, dramatically exclaimed: "We have our candidate; we have our platform. Are we going to change either?" To this there were loud cries of "No." They could not drop the candidate, and none knew this better than did he and his convention manager, David Bennett Hill, who was there to carry out the wishes of J. Pierpont Morgan, J. J. Hill, August Belmont and the Wall street crowd who want to punish Theodore Roosevelt for having the Supreme Court declare that the greatest, as well as the smallest, of the trusts are subject to the law and can be controlled by the people through their representatives.

The convention at St. Louis was a curious assemblage. It was heralded as the enemy of the trusts. It was called to order by James K. Jones, one of the chief stockholders in the Cotton Bale Trust. Its temporary chairman was John Sharp Williams, from a State which last fall declared against education for a majority of its citizens, and whose dominating influences despise "mudsills," whether white or black. Its permanent chairman was Champ Clark, a leader in the boodle State of Missouri, and one, too, who has never opened his mouth against the corruption and profligacy which every intelligent citizen could see was dominating the affairs of that Commonwealth.

Its committee on resolutions, by 35 to 15, voted against disturbing the declarations in 1896 and 1900 for free silver, and the convention indorsed this action. Mr. Hill deceived Mr. Bryan to secure the nomination for the Wall street candidate. The nominee, when he was safely in the saddle, wired that he had at last made up his mind that the Republicans were right in establishing the gold standard, and unless he let it be known he could not hope to be elected, and might as well give up the nomination. The convention said: "Go on, old boy; you know best what will get votes in the end. We want to win. What you say will not change the views of the party. When we elect you, the tidal wave will also give us Congress, and we can then work you. We are not much afraid of the backbone of a man who during eight years of agitation and struggle has never before told even so intimate a friend as Dave Hill where he stood."

If the convention or any member of it uttered one broad, patriotic sentiment it was not printed. There was no word of praise or encouragement for the navy which has brought us so much glory, and given such an impetus to our commerce during the past few years. Instead of recognizing the valor and sufferings of our soldier boys on foreign stands whilst upholding American liberty and law in Cuba, Puerto Rico, China and the Philippines, there is a demand that the army, now at its lowest notch under the law as it stands, shall be still further reduced. But I will discuss the details of the platform in future communications.

The thoughtful citizens, who want to do what is best for his country, need only read the proceedings of the Democratic and Republican conventions, respectively, to see where lies the path of duty. One was orderly, decent and admirably conducted in every respect. The other was a mob and torn by factions, and while tacitly admitting that its last two predecessors had acted foolishly, yet it would not say so, and reaffirmed some of their most asinine deliverances. It will not do to say that the difference is accounted for by the fact that at Chicago there was no contest. Practically the same can be said of St. Louis. Judge Parker really was without opposition, and he and his New York advisors selected old man Davis as his running mate in a trust-busting campaign. If neither the monetary standard nor the trusts are possible issues in this campaign. "Where are we at?" as the Alabama statesman said.

What is there in either ticket or platform put out by the St. Louis convention to induce any reasonable man to vote for a change? Are not the times good enough and did not Judge Parker in his telegram practically say that the Republicans had brought about our present prosperity by adopting the gold standard?

What Are We to Do?

What are we to do? Disease germs are in water, wine, whisky, beer, cider, milk and whatever we drink from thirst or pleasure. They are in bread, meats, fruits, vegetables, sugar, honey, molasses and whatever we eat from hunger or delight. So say scientists. Our fathers and mothers knew nothing of these germ destroyers of health, happiness and life, so they ate, drank and made merry to a good, peaceful old age. But we know and fear to eat, drink or sleep, for they are in the air we breathe, in the sunlight that warms our blood and in the darkness that chills our body. Some people know too much, or make believe they do; some people know too little, or think they do. Such is man, possibly woman also, a mass of pretensions, high or low.

A Strange Telegram.

He always had worn a Van Dyke beard, but was anxious to have it shaved off, when every masculine under seventy was going barefaced.

His wife objected, for, said she: "What can I do to myself that will make me look as much younger as that will do you?"

As a dutiful and considerate husband he forbore, until one fatal day when in the barber's chair he yielded to the tempter and gave the word to "let her go." The result was startling—he certainly was much changed and, oh, how disastrously young he appeared. He rose weakly and went to the nearest telegraph office—he would get the worst over before facing that wife at home. His message ran:

"Prepare for shock. Have had beard taken off."

Democratic Ghost Stories.

The Democratic press, to keep up the courage of that section of the party which indorses the Parker rape of the Presidential platform, presents figures taken from spiritland. What are the facts? The electoral college now consists of 476 votes. It takes, therefore, 239 to elect. The probably sure Democratic States are:

Alabama, 11; Arkansas, 9; Florida, 5; Georgia, 13; Kentucky, 13; Louisiana, 9; Mississippi, 10; Missouri, 18; North Carolina, 12; South Carolina, 9; Tennessee, 12; Texas, 18; Virginia, 12. Total, 151.

The sure Republican States:

California, 10; Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 3; Illinois, 27; Indiana, 15; Iowa, 13; Kansas, 10; Maine, 6; Massachusetts, 16; Michigan, 14; Minnesota, 11; Nebraska, 8; New Hampshire, 4; New Jersey, 12; North Dakota, 4; Ohio, 23; Oregon, 4; Pennsylvania, 34; Rhode Island, 4; South Dakota, 4; Utah, 3; Vermont, 4; Washington, 5; Wyoming, 3. Total, 244.

The doubtful States are:

Colorado, 5; Idaho, 3; Maryland, 8; Montana, 3; New York, 39; Nevada, 4; West Virginia, 7; Wisconsin, 13. Total, 81.

Giving all these doubtful States to the Democrats they would still lack seven votes necessary to win. But what is there to justify the belief that any of these States will vote the Democratic ticket? Colorado in 1903 elected a Republican Justice of the Supreme Court by a plurality of 7,586. Idaho elected in 1902 a Republican Governor by 5,853, and the Legislature a Republican by thirty-three on joint ballot. Maryland in 1903 elected a Democratic Governor by 12,625. But the Republican pluralities were in 1896 32,224, and in 1900 13,947. The Republicans besides elected in 1902 four out of six Congressmen. The State is therefore very doubtful.

Montana for Justice of the Supreme Court, went in 1902 Republican by 10,486. The Legislature is Republican on joint ballot by twenty-two. New York, with the sole exception of the accidental election of Alton B. Parker as Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals in 1897, has not since 1892 gone Democratic at any election. Presidential or gubernatorial. McKinley's plurality in 1900 was 143,666. The Legislature of the Empire State is Republican on joint ballot by fifty-one. Nevada is a Silver State. It elected in 1902 a Free Silver Governor by 1,743. Will it vote in 1904 for a gold standard Presidential candidate? West Virginia has not since 1862 given a Democratic plurality for President or Governor. McKinley's plurality of 11,503 in 1896 was increased to 21,622 in 1900.

The Legislature of West Virginia is solidly Republican by a majority of forty-six on joint ballot. Will West Virginia in 1904 renounce her record of ten years of Republican loyalty? As for Wisconsin, it is enough to point out that McKinley's plurality of 102,612 in 1896 was advanced to 103,650 four years later. Gov. La Follette, correctly described as a Republican Bryan, may take some votes out of the Republican column, but gains from Democratic ranks will offset these.

Wisconsin will, at any rate, under the fine leadership of United States Senators Spooner and Charles, remain firm in allegiance to the party that has given its forests, fields, farms, factories and mines the development which has so abundantly ennobled the State.

A Woman's Prayer

It is notable that in the despondency caused by womanly diseases, there seems to many a suffering woman no way of escape from pain except at the price of life itself. It would be sad to record such a story of struggle and suffering except for the fact that in such dire distress many a woman has found a way back to health and happiness by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The one and only remedy for leucorrhoea, female weakness, prostration, or falling of the womb, so also, a remedy for the common ailments of women, as to warrant its makers in offering to pay, as they hereby do, the sum of $500 reward for a case of the above maladies which they cannot cure.

"Your medicine almost raised me from the dead," writes Mrs. Edwin H. Gardner, of Egypt, Plymouth Co., Mass., Box 14. "My urine was like brick dust, and I had pain all over me and such a dragging feeling it seemed I could not do my house work. One day I found a little book. I read it and wrote to Dr. Pierce, and in a few days received an answer. I decided to try his medicine, and to-day I am a well woman. I have no headache, no backache, no pain at all. I used always to have headaches previously to the monthly period and such pain that I would roll on the floor in agony. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and three of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and was completely cured."

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." There is nothing just as good. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser—sent free on receipt of stamps to cover expense of mailing only. contestants tried very hard to get Santos Dumont to contradict himself, and indulged in bickering and bullying that would have caused a sensation in the criminal courts of this city.

"Tell me, sir," said the lawyer, assuming a very theatrical attitude and shaking his forefinger vigorously at Santos Dumont, "was or was not the testator in the habit of talking to himself when he was alone?"

"I do not know, sir," was the answer.

"Do not know! Yet a most intimate friend of his! Why, sir, do you not know?"

"Because," Santos Dumont replied, "I was never with him when he was alone."

The lawyer thereupon collapsed.

Bryan's Opinion of Parker.

(From Bryan's prepared statement at Lincoln, Neb., July 12, 1904.)

"I have nothing to take back. I have nothing to withdraw of the things that I have said against the methods pursued to advance his (Parker's) candidacy. It was a plain and deliberate attempt to deceive the party. The New York platform was vague and meaningless, and purposefully so, because the advocates of Judge Parker were trying to secure votes from among the people who would have opposed his views had they known them. If he had sent to the Albany convention the telegram that he sent to the St. Louis convention he would have had very few instructed delegates from the South, and no possible chance for the nomination. But he and his managers adroitly and purposefully concealed his position until the delegates had been corrupted and the nomination assured. Then his friends attempted to secure a plank, which was verily and truly defeated in the committee. After the party had rejected over the harmony secured by the omission of the question, and after he had secured the nomination, he injected his view upon the subject at a time when he could not be taken from the ticket without great demoralization. The nomination was secured, therefore, by crooked and indefensible methods."

From Bryan's speech at the St. Louis Convention, after receipt of Parker's dispatch.

"I think it is a manly thing for a man to express his opinion before the convention adjourns. It would have been manly to have expressed it before the convention met. It is a manly thing to express his opinion before the delegates act finally upon his position, but it would have been a manly thing had he expressed his opinion before the voters throughout this country went to their caucuses and their primaries and sent instructed delegates here."

Safeguard the Children.

Notwithstanding all that is done by boards of health and charitable inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during hot weather of the summer months in the large cities. There is not probably one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Mr. Frank Riggs, of Franklinville, N. Y., in speaking of this remedy said: "I have found it expedient to have a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand. It has been a family safeguard and while especially beneficial to children, it is equally good in adult cases. I recommend it cheerfully and without reservation." For sale by all druggists.

The Passion of the Collector.

The Rev. A. B. Simpson, president of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, recently entertained a missionary from Burmah.

"I addressed a boys' school last month," the missionary said. "I told the boys everything interesting and uplifting that I could think of about the Burmese. They were appreciative and attentive."

"Perhaps," I said at the end. "There are some things I have not made clear. Are there any questions you would like to ask?"

"No one interrogated me then, but after the meeting was over and intelligent-looking boy approached timidly as I was leaving the platform."

"I—I would like"—he began, and then hesitated.

"Go on, my lad," said I. There is some question you would like to ask. I suppose?"

"Yes, sir," said the boy. "I want to know if you have any foreign stamps that you could give a fellow?"

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

This remedy is certain to be needed in almost every home before the summer is over. It can always be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous case. It is especially valuable for summer disorders in children. It is pleasant to take and never fails to give prompt relief. Why not buy it now? It may save your life. For sale by all druggists.

Japan is certainly up-to-date in the vices as well as the virtues of the West. But it comes as something of a shock to find that the land of the chrysanthemum is suffering from the boarding and advertisement curse. #### Colors That are not Easy to See.

What color is least easily seen at a distance? One would naturally say, some dull neutral tint, a somber gray or brown. This has been the conclusion of most military men, and our brilliant dress uniforms have given away for practical campaigning to khaki and other dull colors. Is this a mistake? Possibly so, according to the results obtained in a recent experiments in England. It has been found there that masses of dull color are very much more conspicuous at a distance than mixtures of bright tints. For instance, a battery of field artillery whose carriages and caissons were decorated with stripes of red, blue and yellow could be made out with difficulty at a thousand yards, while other batteries painted a uniform brown or drab were easily seen at great distances. It would seem as if, on the same principle, a regiment of gayly dressed troops might be less easily visible than one wholly garbed in dull-colored khaki.

A Quick-Witted Indian.

The late Clement Scott, the English dramatic critic, took a profound interest in the American Indian. He had at his tongue's tip a hundred incidents wherewith to illustrate odd phases of the Indian's character.

"There was a farmer in the West," he once said, "who was hard put to it for help on his farm. Indians were plentiful in the neighborhood, but they were poor workmen. Always tired, they would put down the hoe or the rake as soon as the master's back was turned, and, selecting a cool spot, they would lie down on the grass and sleep the day away."

"But one morning a very tall, robust Indian asked the farmer to give him work."

"No," said the white man, "you will get tired. You Indians are always getting tired."

"Oh, no," said the other. This Indian never gets tired. This Indian not like the rest."

"Well, I'll try you," said the farmer, and he engaged the man. He put him to work in the wheat field; then he went away for an hour or two. When he returned he found the Indian asleep under a tree.

"Here, wake up here," he cried. You told me you never did get tired."

"Ugh," said the other, yawning, "this Indian don't. But it he not lie down often, he would get tired, just the same as the rest of them."

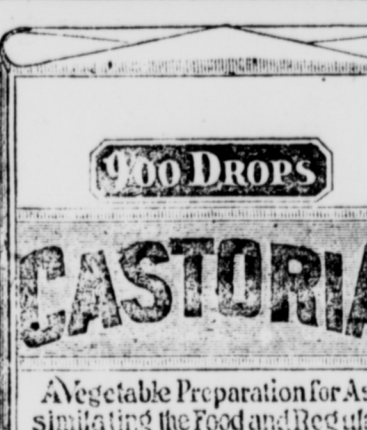

Have you read that very interesting magazine, The Smart Set?

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased. Mr. D. Mrs. Belle Tabor was seriously hurt here in Hartford last Saturday by the running away of the team which she was driving. The team which Mrs. Tabor was driving became frightened as she started down the slope on Union street near the Hocker property and dashed down the street to the corner at the Hartford House. Here the team turned short and the buggy pole was run against a tree which threw Mrs. Tabor violently from the buggy to the pavement, which rendered her unconscious. Hubert Baker who was arrested at Rockport the latter part of last week charged with carrying a concealed weapon to-wit: a pistol, was tried before Judge Miller Saturday and was fined $25.00 and sentenced to ten days in jail. When the officer attempted to arrest Baker he resisted, and quite a combat between him and the officer occurred in which Baker struck the officer with a pair of brass knuckles and shot at him with a .38 caliber long barrel pistol. He was at last overcome and brought to Hartford and lodged in jail. Later a charge of shooting with intent to kill was preferred against him. He was arranged for examining trial yesterday but he waived examination and was held to await the action of the November grand jury. The last charge against Baker, is a penitentiary offense and if he is proven guilty he will get a term.

Murphy lived until Wednesday morning when he died as a result of blood poisoning. The wound was made with number four shot. Murphy lived at Rockport but worked in the machine shop at Echols. Porter made his escape and has not yet been apprehended. It is reported the shooting was entirely unprovoked.

Summer at Hot Springs

For those who go to Hot Springs, Arkansas, for the benefit of health, the summer is really the best time. Her fortunate location, high up in the foothills of the Ozark mountains insures a cool and delightful climate, and physicians are united in the opinion that the waters are more beneficial during the summer season.

Nuts.

Peanuts, English walnuts, filberts, pine nuts and hickory nuts build up the tissues of the body.

Almonds, pine nuts and peanuts contain the food values of the other nuts in high proportions.

Heat and energy are produced by nuts rich in oil, such as black walnuts, butter nuts, Brazil nuts and cocoanuts.

For diabetes a valuable soup may be made of spinach, celery or turnips, thickened with almonds, pine nuts or Brazil nut butter.

Nuts are indispensable to the vegetarian, making up for such items as meat, milk and butter. Better yet, they are free from all kinds of disease germs.

Chestnuts and chinquapins are starchy nuts, and, therefore, must be well cooked to be digestible. Most nuts are more wholesome when cooked.

Pine nuts grow on the dry hills of Colorado and California in profusion. They are cheap, as there is no waste. They should always be washed and dried.

We call the fruits of trees nuts when we eat the kernel and reject the outside covering. When we reverse this order and eat the outside, rejecting the kernel, we call them fruits.

That Toothpick Fiend.

The man who will use a toothpick in street cars doesn't "belong."

We witnessed an incident on a car the other day, in which one of these nuisances received the proper squelching.

He was hanged by a strap and was absent, even peacefully, picking his teeth.

Presently the woman who was seated in front of him touched the man:

"Sir," she said, pleasantly, "would you mind going out on the platform to pick your teeth? I'm not at all curious to know what you had for dinner."

The fellow left the car immediately, while the conductor rang up two fares by mistake.

One Lady's Recommendation Sold Fifty Boxes of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets.

I have, I believe, sold fifty boxes of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets on the recommendation of one lady here, who first bought a box of them about a year ago. She never tires of telling her neighbors and friends about the good qualities of these Tablets.—P. M. SHORE, Druggist, Rochester, Ind. The pleasant purgative effect of these Tablets makes them a favorite with ladies everywhere. For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro., Hartford.

An important literary event will mark the August McClure's in the appearance of the opening installments of the first story of childhood from the pen of Frances Hodgson Burnett, since the days of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," which has been, by general consent, voted the best book of childhood ever published. In her new story Mrs. Burnett makes a little girl the central character and idealizes her charming heroine quite as she did the hero who preceded her.

Gleanings

Poor seed is the cause of much of the failure in the garden.

Nothing will increase egg production quicker than green bone freshly cut.

Select eggs of uniform size for hatching, especially if you use hens for that purpose.

Women seem better adapted than men for some of the work connected with the home dairy.

A cow unused to linseed meal, it is said, will increase her milk two quarts a day if fed it.

In three years the progeny of a pair of rats, under favorable condition, will number 1,000.

Charcoal is good for hens. An ear of corn charred in the oven supplies it in convenient form.

Sunflower seed produces oil of an excellent quality, and is said to be good feed for both poultry and sheep.

Old hens, as a rule, take on fat more readily than the young ones. As the fat increases the eggs decrease.

Some one has said that if farmers grew more crops of mammoth clover they would be able to grow mammoth crops of grain also.

Good care prevents disease in the case of all animals. The trouble to which they are subject are due in nearly all cases to improper treatment.

An Indiana orchardist says that in localities where there is a thin soil over an impervious clay the subsoil plow should be used before planting out an orchard.

In six months wheat will shrink in bulk two quarts to the bushel, or 6 per cent. It therefore follows that 94 cents a bushel in August just after wheat is threshed, is equal to $1 in the following February.

With one-half day's labor a hot-bed in which not only tomatoes and other early vegetables can be started for early planting, but in which can also be grown lettuce, radishes, etc., sufficient for the needs of the ordinary family.

Domestic Troubles.

It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much troubles they save by their great work in Stomach and Liver troubles. They not only relieve you, but cure. 25c, at Z. Wayne Griffin & Bros' Drug Store.

Boston People are Particular.

Rev. Robert Collier, whose long and successful ministerial career has been passed chiefly in Chicago and New York, finds the complete satisfaction of Bostonians in their city a source of amusement. He says he was in the vicinity of the pearly gates, and saw two ladies approach, seeking entrance.

"Where are you from?" asked St. Peter.

"We're both from Boston," replied one of the ladies.

"Well, you can come in," said St. Peter, "but you won't like it." A variation of the same anecdote is the story of a Boston woman who had passed within the gates and was taking her first look around.

"It is very nice," she exclaimed, "very nice, indeed, but"—this with a sigh—"it isn't Boston."

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

The Border Judge.

[Ladies Monthly.]

Of all "Squires" whose virtues should survive the past, Pat Tompkins stands pre-eminent. Back in the early 80s, and prior, "Squire" Pat Tompkins' Court was held at Red River Station, an outfitting post just forty-three miles from a railroad.

While "Squire" Tompkins was not versed in the law, he had unequalled respect for Judges of the superior or courts. Being told upon one occasion that Circuit Judge Piner had taken a certain case under advisement and would hand down his decision in writing, the "Squire" remarked: "Well, that's a good idea. I'll do the same the next time Fance Bagby gets cotted up with."

Before many weeks had elapsed Mr. Bagby was brought in, charged with compelling a tenderfoot to wallow in a bed of cactus. The evidence was somewhat conflicting, for, although the prosecuting witness exhibited a coat and a pair of trousers thickly studded with needles, Bagby and his two witnesses swore positively that the prosecutor was drunk and fell off a bronco while coming through a mesquit flat. At the conclusion of the evidence his Honor observed: "I'll take this question under advisement and hand down my opinion after preparin' the same." On the next Saturday he had the prisoner brought in, and "handed down" the following, written upon a piece of manila wrapping paper: "I, the court Pat Tompkins squire, find the prisoner not guilty by a tite squeeze, so help me God."

Weak Hearts.

Ase caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, the stomach expands—swells, and puffs up against the heart. This crowds the heart and shortens the breath. Rapid heart beats and heart disease is the final result. ### One of Quay's Jokes.

[New York Tribune.]

The late Senator Quay was not a man given to laughing, but one would have been grossly mistaken who therefore had set him down as unappreciative of a joke; and it even may be added with truth that the statesman seemed to enjoy the joke a little more heartily if it chanced to be upon himself.

He used to tell with evident pleasure of a meeting he had with a Florida farmer, when he once was returning from his fishing bungalow at St. Lucie. The man shared the seat with Quay in an accommodation train.

Naturally enough, the conversation lagged considerably, the Senator not being well upon local gossip or crops, and the countryman knowing nothing at all of the general news of the day. At last the latter asked if Mr. Quay was making his first visit to Florida.

"No," was the reply. "I've been here occasionally in the course of my wanderings."

"An' why be ye wanderin'?" came the next question.

Solemnly Quay answered: "I'm trying to see if I cannot ameliorate the condition of the inner man."

The farmer looked, but said nothing. Indeed, he made not a single remark on any topic till they reached the next station, where, with a brief good bye, he alighted.

As he stepped upon the platform he said to the brakeman who repeated it to Quay: "See that serious-lookin' feller I was sittin' with? He's one o' them blane faith-healers."

How Jack Rabbits Have Fun With Dogs.

"One of the greatest cruelties I have ever seen perpetrated on animals is taking a town dog to live on a ranch in my district," said the rancher from the San Joaquin Valley in California. "If the S. P. C. A. people understood what it mean they would protest."

"Last summer we brought down an Irish setter from San Francisco. The first evening he sighted a jack rabbit and started out after it. He chased it half a mile, when a second jack rabbit started up and jumped by his nose. He turned on it, then two more jack rabbits appeared. The dog whirled on them and struck out hot and heavy. But every twenty feet a new and more tempting rabbit jumped up, and the dog could see twenty of them at a time.

"He tried to chase each one separately, with the result that he was scrambling wildly about in a circle. He couldn't decide on any one rabbit, and he became desperately wrathful. Finally he settled down after one big one, when it seemed to split into four or five rabbits."

"With a wild yelp of rage the dog circled about. Everywhere were rabbits, but he couldn't catch one, although they seemed provokingly slow. When we came up that dog was lying down exhausted, as nearly sobbing with vexation as any dog can."

Not Fatal.

No Matter What Doctors Say—We Know That Heart Trouble in Many Cases Can Be Cured.

There are seven main features of heart disease, viz.: (1) Weakness or Debility; (2) Rheumatism or Neuralgia; (3) Valvular Disorder; (4) Dilatation; (5) Enlargement; (6) Fatty Degeneration; (7) Dropsy.

Documentary evidence will prove thousands of so-called "Incurables" have been absolutely cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Patients often have no idea their disease is heart trouble, but ascribe it to Indigestion, Liver Complaint, etc.

Here are some of the symptoms: Shortness of breath after exercise. Smothering Spells. Pain in Chest, left Shoulder and arm. Discomfort in Lying on one side. Fainting Spells. Nervous Cough. Swelling of Feet and Ankles. Paleness of Face and Lips. Palpitation. Nightmare. Irregular Pulse.

"I have great faith in Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and speak of its merits whenever opportunity presents. I can now go up and down stairs with ease, where three weeks ago I could hardly walk one block. One year later—I am still in good health. The Heart Cure did so much for me that I find it a far greater medicine than you claimed it to be."—S. D. YOUNG, D. D., 631 North Pine St., Natchez, Miss.

Y. M. C. A. Growth in Kentucky.

A resume of the growth and development of the Young Men's Christian Association work in Kentucky for the past three years, under the supervision of the State Executive Committee, has been sent to the International Committee, and will appear in the Year Book of 1904. It contains the following information:

During the past three years the growth of the various departments of work in the State—city, railroad, student and county—has been notable, and has been especially characterized by a broader vision of the field to be occupied by each Association, and by a more systematic and aggressive occupancy of the fields in which work is being done. This period witnessed the Jubilee of the Association work in Kentucky, commemorating the semi-centennial of the organization of the first association in the State, and of the quarter-centennial of the organization of the State work. 551 delegates attended the Jubilee Convention at Lexington, the largest Association Convention (State or International) ever held in the South.

There are now 74 Associations in the State. Ten of these are city, seven railroad, twenty-seven student, and thirty town. Fifty-one secretaries are employed. Two assistants have been added to the secretaries force of the State Committee, which is now as follows: State Secretary, Secretary City and Railroad Department. With this report, the State Secretary, Henry E. Rosevear, completes fifteen years of service in the State.

AN ENCOURAGING GROWTH.

In the material equipment of the Association of the State there has been an encouraging growth. Buildings have been opened for the railroad departments at Ashland and Corbin, costing $8,000 and $6,500 respectively. Lexington has raised $40,000 for a new building now in process of construction. A building at Covington has been assured by the securing of $50,000 in subscriptions. Hartford, Ohio county, owns the first county Association building in the State. Building movements are in progress in a number of other communities. The Louisville Association raised a jubilee fund of $19,000 to cover the mortgage indebtedness and cost of improvements on its building.

The railroad work has made more rapid and steady progress during the past three years than in any previous period in our history. Two new railroad departments have been organized and preliminary work begun at two other points. Institutes for the study of religious and educational needs of the railroad men in Kentucky, and the Association's relation thereto, have been held by the State Committee and have borne fruit in a larger and more aggressive work in these departments.

In the student department there has been an outward and inward growth. There has been a decided increase in the number of Associations and in the material equipment, and the aggregate membership and enrollment in bible study and mission study classes surpasses that of any previous period. The annual conference of Presidents, the State Student Conference and the supervision of the Student Secretary of the State Committee, have been vital factors in the development of this department.
